the year can be most remembered for simple events like snow in december, tonic at major madness, a fresh look to the otherwise "old" ezelle, "live in it to win it" with y101, a new dean of the college, major productions and the infamous stevie starr, a plethora of parking tickets, new soccer and women's basketball coaches, and exciting blueprints for a multimillion dollar campus life complex. these memorable occasions distracted students only temporarily as they continued to strive and excel in academics, extracurricular activities, sports, performing arts, and all other facets of college life.

Matt Corroccio, Steve Baham, Paul Holland, Brooks Brawn

HOMECOMING COURT
 Katye Bratton, Mary Largent, Heather Neuroth, Jennifer Brewer, and Ashley McDonnell were all elected to be on the Homecoming Court. They were juniors and seniors nominated by campus ballot. Elections were held the week of Homecoming, and Heather Neuroth was crowned queen during halftime of the football game.

Homecoming Weekend

Friday Night
 President Harmon and Jennifer Jones dance the night away at Motown Downtown, a party sponsored by the SBA at the Landmark Building.

Saturday Morning
 Laura Autry speaks to the Tri Delta parents who came to town for the tailgate party and the football game.

Saturday Morning
 Corbin Womac and Alex Conolly take the team walk around campus.

Saturday at Noon
 Jason Ruggles grills food at the Pi Kappa Alpha tailgate party as Gabe Benzur, Beau Hale, and Brandon Baxter wait their turn.

Coming home

Family and alumni gather for a campus wide celebration.

Q: Speaking as a football player, what was the highlight of Homecoming for you?

A: The football game was awesome! I kicked my first and only field goal of the season. I also want to encourage more people to attend Motown Downtown next year because it was so much fun.

Ryan Miles

Q: What was your favorite part of the festivities during Homecoming weekend?

A: It was great.....except for our tailgate party. Footballs kept flying at my head from every angle because my sorority tailgate party was set up behind the end zone. I was not cool with pigskins hitting me on the head.

Camilla Taylor

HOLD ON TIGHT.

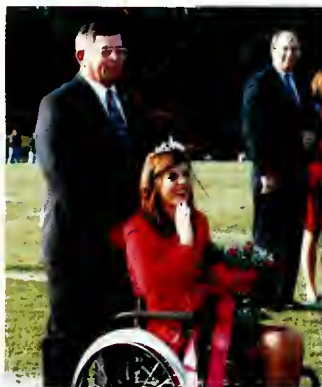

Brooks Brower and Stephanie Yasinski hold the balloon arch which the football players ran through at the beginning of the game.

MILLSAPS SPIRIT
Brad Litkenhous shows his support for the Majors. The SAE's were notorious for putting on their game faces.

Saturday Afternoon
The football team runs onto the field as the announcer presents them to the crowd.

Halftime
Heather Neuroth is crowned Homecoming queen.

Saturday Night
The Lambda Chi Alpha members sit with their alumni at the new house dedication. The fraternity built a new house that was finished at the beginning of the school year.

Moving in

The campus comes alive as freshmen move into the dorms.

WHERE DO I GO?

Treuty Dominick gets advice and information about her dorm room from Adele Dauphin. The job of the Perspectives Leader was to smooth the transition to college life.

Q: Were there many differences moving in this year as a sophomore instead of last year as a freshman?

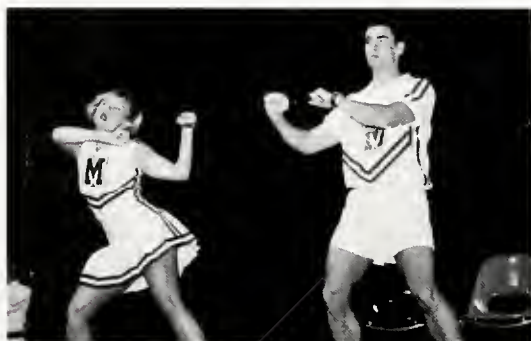

A: Moving in as a sophomore was not nearly as fun. Since I was a Perspectives Leader and moved in early, very few people were here. There wasn't the excitement of meeting your roommate for the first time or trying to decorate the room. It was easier in that you basically know what you're going to need, but I think that I enjoyed it more as a freshman when everything was exciting.

Lena Palmer

Q: What do you remember about moving in at the beginning of the year?

A: I remember thinking : Maybe I will get used to three flights of stairs, or gosh my hallmates are dorks!

Sally Williams

WE'VE GOT SPIRIT!

Perspectives Leaders Katie Bratton and Todd Reeves entertain the freshmen with a short skit in a take-off on "Saturday Night Live."

HARD LABOR

Michael Boerner lends a helping hand as the freshmen women move into Franklin. The fraternity guys came to help the freshmen move in so that the girls and their parents would not be overwhelmed in the late August heat,

Helping out

Lending a hand serves as a worthwhile break from studying.

SQUEAKY CLEAN

Mary Meadows washes one of the cars at the Kappa Delta/Kappa Sigma car wash for charity held during Parents' Weekend.

Q: Out of all the community service events during the year, which one was your favorite?

A: For me the AmeriCorps program was my favorite philanthropy. I saw so much potential, and it was partially realized with my help. The joy of reading is such a precious gift, and to help foster that ability in someone made me feel very good.

Jennifer Jones

Q: Which philanthropy gave you the greatest sense of satisfaction?

A: Midtown was definitely my favorite event of the year. It is hard to get out of bed at seven or eight in the morning, but once you finally get up and get going you realize how much fun you are going to have.

Betsy Farrell

JUST BAG IT.

Amanda Cook, Janine Lacallade, and Betsy Farrell rake leaves for Midtown at a house on Grand Avenue.

Community Service Through the Year

Parents' Weekend in September
Turkessa Irvin and Monica Allen sell raffle tickets to win a Millsaps basket. The proceeds benefited Habitat.

September

Liz Giovingo dives head-first into a pile of watermelons and soda at the Lambda Chi Alpha Watermelon Bust. The winners of the various relays at the Watermelon Bust were able to send the proceeds to the charity of their choice.

First Week of November

Carrie Thune gives a piggy-back ride to a child at the Greek Olympics.

November

Lantanishia Dees and Shantelle Suane help organize food at the AKA food drive.

TEARING IT DOWN

Bradley Sanders uses a crowbar to tear down a wall at Midtown.

Midtown was a popular event among many students. Different campus groups came together to make this event successful. Students helped to renovate and fix up impoverished neighborhoods.

As the Seasons Change

Halloween

Beth West, Amy Clifton, and Tracy Harper pass out candy to the children of faculty.

Advent

Dr. Tim Coker, Dr. Harrylyn Sallis, and Ann Hyneman sing at the Advent Service of Lessons and Carols.

Martin Luther King Day

Shantelle Suane signs along with many other signatures of students. By signing, these students were voicing their support for the ideals of Dr. King.

Valentines Day

Brandi Walker gets ready on the morning of Valentines Day. Next to her are the balloons and candy that her Valentine sent to her to show he cares.

Ash Wednesday

Allison Harris joins in the Ash Wednesday service in the Fitzhugh Chapel.

Easter

Brooks Brower and Erin Webre pose with Kelly Walsh, who is dressed as a bunny, at the March of Dimes Walk-a-thon.

Good times

Students find a release in worship, laughter, and song.

SING YOUR PRAISE
Laura Moore, Allen King, and John Suggs sing "Tenebrae Sancta Sunt" at the Thanksgiving Worship Service.

Q: What do you like most about celebrating different holidays on campus?

A: It is really different to celebrate some holidays on campus with your friends and not your family, but I like being here. Halloween was definitely fun. The night before, everyone was walking around in costumes which definitely made for an interesting night.

Katie Kelly

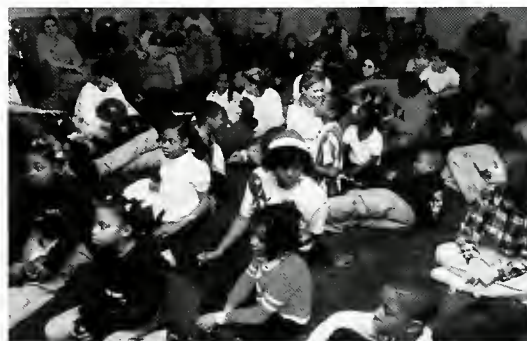

Q: Which on-campus celebrations have you enjoyed the most?

A: I enjoyed passing candy out to the kids trick-or-treating in Bacot. It was a fun way to spend Halloween.

Kristy Grammer

CHRISTMAS CHEER

Marty Frascogna and Phillip Dubose act out The Grinch Who Stole Christmas as Mary Catherine Shull reads the story to the kids at Santa Shoestring. A number of campus organizations work together each year to help the children enjoy this Christmas party.

LOOK! IT'S A REINDEER!

Children from Operation Shoestring watch the skit and story at the Kappa Delta house. After the skit, the children engaged in the traditional balloon fight with fraternity members.

TUG!

Elaine Reyes, Cameron Bell, Allison Harris, Chad Gardner, and Erika Garavito pull hard to avoid being the ones to fall into the shaving cream. The teams consisted of up to six people. After all the teams had competed, many people formed different teams and tested their strength.

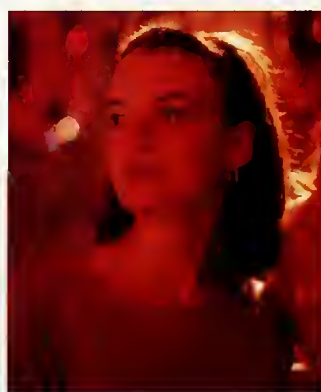

Major Madness Weekend

Thursday Night 8:00 p.m.
Alex Black, Brian Carpenter, Jason Bone, and Bert Austin formed a band that competed in the Talent Show and performed original songs.

Thursday Night
Catherine Mouton and Allison Almon dance at the Chi Omega Dance-A-Thon for charity.

Friday 10 p.m.
Natalie Hebert watches as Tonic performs at Rodeo's.

Saturday 11:30 a.m.
Liz Dubuission fills her plate with fruit provided by the cafeteria.

Party on

Major Madness sweeps the campus in April.

Q: What were your impressions of Major Madness?

A: I had cheerleading tryouts all Saturday so I did not get to participate in any of those activities; however, Tonic was so good that I did not mind missing all of the activities on Saturday.

Shelly Byrd

GIVE ME SOME
Randy Bass and Chad Gardner grab some of the crawfish that were cooked out in the Bowl.

Q: What did you like about Major Madness?

A: I think that the band on Saturday night should have been in the Bowl instead of by the AC; however, Rodeo's was an excellent choice to stage Tonic. It was big and spacious and there were a lot of bars.

Isaac Wankerl

GRILL IT UP
Carrie Thune grills a special recipe hamburger for the Tri Deltas during the hamburger cookoff.

Saturday 12:00
Tyler Owen participates in the Quake Tournament in Sullivan Harrell.

Saturday Afternoon

CMT SIGN-UP

Don Fortenberry, Todd Reeves, and Amanda Cook work at the Campus Ministry Team booth during the Activities Fair in the Bowl. The Fair gave freshmen a chance to learn about various organizations both on and off campus.

As the Year Goes By

Parents' Weekend

Mary Catherine Shull and Tessa Hue show their talent at Delta Underground.

September

Don Cumbest, Brad Litkenhous, Sam Hall, and Cassie Sheldon voice their opinions at the Gender Gap program co-sponsored by LEAD and Phi Mu.

September 30

April Slayden and David Chambers discuss career options with Dr. Royappa at the Meet Your Major Fair.

January 23

Carey Miller stands back as the Regurgitator spits out fire.

Eventful days

Groups provide entertainment and opportunities for students.

Q: What are your impressions of the events that Millsaps has on campus?

A: I love the forums and other things that students participate in. It is good to see that people not only show their talents in the classroom but also in extracurricular activities.

Brian Carpenter

COMEDIANS IN THE MAKING. Brothers John Suggs and Ricky Suggs present a stand-up comedy routine at Delta Underground in September.

Q: Out of the many events that were presented on campus, what was your favorite?

A: Do you remember that Major Productions guy who had ESP? Well, the dude guessed how much change was in my pocket! I had never met him before or anything. He just shook my hand and told me that I had 35 cents in my pocket. I had a quarter and two nickels. It blew my mind.

Brian Boyd

SERVE IT UP. Mary Catherine Shull helps herself to a hamburger at the All-Sorority Cookout in the spring sponsored by Kappa Delta.

February 19
Sarah Katherine McNeil, Ruth Hamilton, and Susie Bell take part in the Murder Mystery Dinner Theater in Acy's Grill. The event was sponsored by Major Productions.

February 26
Jennifer Rogers is honored at Tap Day with a ring of ivy from Eta Sigma Phi, the classics honorary.

March 25
Chad Gardner, Brad Litkenhous, and Neill Ayres enjoy the singing of Mark Eddie.

March 25
Rock comedian Mark Eddie sings familiar songs with different lyrics.

Fair play

Intramurals allow students a chance to spike it, slam dunk, and go long!

MAKING IT OFFICIAL.
Matt Proctor and Ricky Stevens served as referees and scorekeepers for intramurals.

Q: Which intramural sport did you find to be the most fun and rewarding?

A: Soccer was my favorite intramural sport. I think that I forgot which side I was playing on for a second because I kicked a ball right at my teammate's face! It is all fun and games until someone gets hurt....then it is just fun.

Courtney Valentine

Q: What are your most vivid memories of all the intramural games this year?

A: Intramurals is just a really good excuse for Aug the Neanderthal to shove a great big elbow in my ribcage....but I keep coming back.

John Suggs

THE PEOPLE IN CHARGE
Coach Roeling, the intramural coordinator, and Jimmy Boyd discuss the flag football games scheduled for the day.

PLAYING HARD.

Chris O'Brien uses fancy footwork to keep Cody McCain from stealing the ball. The flag football games were played in the spring on the soccer field.

Seasonal Sports

Volleyball
Katye Bratton and Kate Pearce sign up to play volleyball.

Basketball
Lambda Chi Brian Norton goes up for a layup during one of their basketball games.

Flag Football
Jenny Cherryhomes leaps for the football as Kim Niolet tries to intercept.

Flag Football
Reagan Toledano looks for an open teammate before he gets tackled.

Softball
Crissie McMullan runs to catch a pop fly coming to her in left field.

Softball
Corbin Womac watches the ball to see if he hit a home run for his team, the Kappa Sigmas.

STUDY HARD
Rasa Lemmond
helps Hideki Yasumoto with his studies. They decided to take advantage of the nice weather and study outside.

As the Afternoon Goes By

Lunch Time
Jermaine Ivy and April McGregor fix a bowl of soup in the cafeteria.

1:25 p.m.
Erica France checks her post office box
to see if she has received any mail.

1:45 p.m.
Phillip Dubose and Adam
Sweeney relax in the bowl after lunch. When the weather was nice outside many students liked to sit in the Bowl and socialize.

2:00 p.m.
Soria Colomer, Missy Rose, Leslie Manuel, and
Kate England read the latest edition of the P&W.

Cutting loose

Students take advantage of their precious free time.

Q: What do you like to do in your free time?

A: I love taking naps! I also enjoy more productive things such as tennis and checking e-mail.

Hillary Pesson

Q: What do you spend your time doing when you are not in class?

Q: What did I do when I was not in class? That would be baseball. We spend so much time on the baseball field that I need a phone in right field!

Joe Lambert

NOSING AROUND.
Ashley Reed does research in the library.

RELAXING
Anita Madakasira and Harpreet Sood relax together in the Bowl.

Q: When you are not in class and have free time on your hands, what do you do?

A: Well, since I really care about my grades, I spend most of my free time studying and preparing for class....or joking around with my friends.

Kristi Joyner

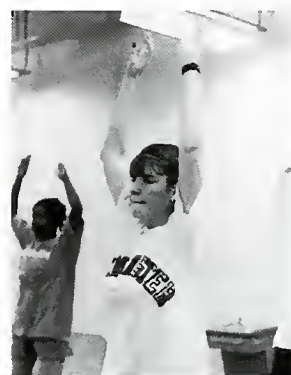

2:30p.m.
Matt Helms takes advantage of the school pool.

3:00p.m.
Ryan Vincent prints pictures in the dark room. Many students worked on campus during the day to make a little extra money.

4:00p.m.
Trinity McKenzie lifts weights in the weight room provided by Millsaps.

4:45p.m.
Becky Hable works up a sweat in one of the step aerobics classes.

5:00p.m.
Janet Bradley walks her dog Art around the campus before dinner.

Time off

From working out to traveling overseas, time away from campus is a precious commodity.

MARDI GRAS IN MEXICO.
Mickey Paduda passes out Mardi Gras beads to children during the Saltillo Mission Trip. Many students opted to spend their spring break on the trip helping others.

Q: What was your favorite part of traveling abroad?

A: That would have to be seeing my closest friends through the thick and thin of being homesick, not understanding the language, and just the whole experience of being in a different culture. When you get yourself out of what you're used to in everyday life, you realize just how much of the small stuff in life you are missing and just how much you really need others. I guess what I liked the best about traveling abroad was noticing minute details of life in another world with people whom I would love and share my world with anytime!

Stacy Reynolds

Q: What was the best and worst part of living in the Jetta?

A: The worst part was...NO RUNNING WATER! The best part was visits from all my friends, including Dean Sneed, the RA staff, my Tri-Delt sorority sisters (singing, no less), Dean Fretwell, and even PRESIDENT HARMON!! Without the support from all of these people, I might not have lasted 500 hours.

Jennifer Brewer

TRAVELING ABROAD
Stacy Reynolds and Kandi Stevens pose for a picture with a breathtaking backdrop. They spent first semester abroad studying in Budapest with other Millsaps students.

WORKIN' UP A SWEAT

Clare Gillette takes time out of her day to work out at the local YMCA. Many Millsaps students were members of the YMCA. They found that exercise is a common way to relieve stress caused by school.

Outside Millsaps

November

Harold Brunson goes to Mystic Bowling during Greek Week.

Mardi Gras

Kristi Joyner pleads with the people on the Mardi Gras floats to throw her beads. Many students went to New Orleans to experience Mardi Gras.

Spring Break
Rebekah Yeager and Rasa Lemmond help a little girl blow bubbles on the Saltillo Mission Trip.

March

Jennifer Brewer spent three weeks of March living in a car during a Y101 contest to win a Jetta. Shelly Byrd pays her a visit to show that all of her friends are supporting her.

April

Elaine Reyes and Katie Kelly use some of their free time to relax at the Reservoir. The Reservoir was a popular place for students to do homework and hang out.

April

Missy Thorton and April Slayden look over the Splendors of Versailles display in the student center. The exhibit opened downtown in late April.

PREPARATION. Gretl Zimmerman jogs through campus for some additional training.

► MAD DASH. "I ran to the end of the dirt road where two race directors were sitting. I asked them which way to go, and they pointed back down the road. When I ran out of the woods, someone on the other side of the lake was yelling, 'Go back.' I had a sizeable lead before the misdirection, and when I started running again, two girls came out of the woods and passed me. They barely beat me to the finish."

- Jenny Allred

STRETCH. Andy Bruggeman warms up. "Bruggeman has a very bright future as a Millsaps runner," said Coach Page.

EXPECTATION. The women's cross country team awaits the start of the SCAC meet at Rhodes.

a rekindled rivalry was announced in april between millsaps and mississippi college after more than 38 years without athletic competition. a contribution of $3 million by the gertrude c. ford foundation will be used to help fund the construction of the new campus life complex and the rennovation of the boyd campbell student center. dr. george m. miller, president and ceo of the united methodist foundation for christian higher education, spoke at the baccalaureate service. commencement drew everyone together for a final time where dr. hodding carter, III, an award winning newspaper and television journalist, addressed graduating seniors, their families and friends, members of the community and millsaps faculty and staff.
